Gardens III of St Andrews Park Association, Inc.

Owner/Resident Handbook

1. Introduction

The Purpose of the handbook is to provide an overview of information you might need to enjoy living in Gardens III of St Andrews Park. It begins with a description of the property included in the Plantation, the larger community; St Andrews Park, our neighbourhood; Gardens III, our local community, and your Condominium unit. It describes the three levels of association that govern each area, how they work, the services they provide and the rules and regulations they have developed to make the entire community function well. It also includes checklists and advice on various aspects of living safely and comfortably in this wonderful community.

For convenience, the legal language of the official governing documents is summarized through the handbook. However, references to the documents are provided if you wish to verify the original intent. In all cases the official documents, not the handbook, should be used to settle disputes or verify decisions of the governing associations.

For this community to function well, owners must take an active part by serving in a leadership role on a Board or committee, attending association meetings and social events, voting, and assisting in various activities and upholding the rules of the community. The handbook provides contact information for you to communicate with Board members, property managers and service providers and to keep up to date on association affairs.

To keep things simple, if you have questions or concerns that need to be addressed immediately without reference to the handbook, contact Gardens III Association Manager at (941) 408-7413. See inside front cover for more specific directions on who to call to get prompt attention to various problem you might face as a condominium owner.

It is also a good idea to get to know and discuss association affairs and your involvement with the President and other Board members of our local community Association, Gardens III at St Andrews Park. The current Board members are listed with their addresses and telephone numbers under Properties/Gardens II at St Andrews Inc./Owners Page at www.argusvenice.com .

We need to keep this handbook current. If you have something to add or changes to report, please email them to info@argusvenice.com. The most up-to-date version of the handbook will be available under Properties/Gardens III at St Andrews Inc./Owners Page at www.argusvenice.com

2. Plantation Property

The Plantation is an extensive development of 1500 acres on both sides of Rockley Blvd between Tamiami Trail (US41) and Center Road and surrounds the Plantation Golf and Country Club, which is privately owned and not part of the Plantation. Within the Plantation are 62 constructed lakes with approximately 22 miles of shoreline and many environmental preserve areas. There are 48 separate neighborhoods comprising 2401 residences within Plantation.

Our neighborhood, St Andrews Park is bounded by Woodbridge Ave, Center Rd, Rockley Blvd and the northern boundaries of the Plantation Golf and Country Club and the Environmental Preserve. In the Park are 388 residences grouped into 14 smaller community associations including ours, Gardens III. Our community, Gardens III of St Andrews Park includes three buildings, 811, 813 and 815 Montrose Dr built in 1999 on a plot of land which extends southward from the edge of the street to the Plantation

Gardens III of St Andrews Park Association, Inc. Owner/Resident Handbook

GCC boundary and westward from the dividing line between Gardens II and Gardens III to the line between Gardens III and IV.

Your property and the Commons When you bought your unit, you became the proud owner of the space enclosed from the interior undecorated drywall surface of the walls, ceilings and sub floor, and the doors and windows. Also, the interior of the unit's storage area is for your exclusive use. All other areas are considered common or limited common areas subject to common rules and regulations promulgated by Garden II (See Section 4).

The outer structure of the buildings (foundations, walls (including unfinished interior drywall), roof, and other external elements) along with the grounds surrounding the building including landscaping, general walkways and visitor parking areas are part of the GIII commons owned collectively by all owners of GIII. The garbage and waste management facility beside 811 Montrose Dr. is for the exclusive use, subject to GIII Rules and regulations, by owners in GIII.

More specifically, each of the 24 condominium owners in GIII owns, in addition to their condominium, 1/24th of the outlying GIII commons. As described in more detail in the GIII Declaration of Condominium of the Association [para 5], the GIII commons includes:

- The land within the GIII property lines around the building
- All parking areas, driveways, and walkways
- The garbage enclosure
- All electrical apparatus and wiring to the meter for each unit, plumbing pipes and apparatus, cables, conduit, and pipes up to the shutoff valve on the exterior unit of the unit
- All structural beams, posts, and members within a unit
- fire prevention equipment including exterior fire alarms and interior sprinkler heads.

The following elements are part of the GIII "limited common elements":

- The carport together with the adjacent storage area intended for that unit's exclusive use
- Stairways (including landing area) and all HVAC equipment) intended for the exclusive use of the owner or owners of the units served (including the air handler and air conditioning unit which you are responsible to maintain or replace as necessary.

In addition, you became a partial owner of the property within Plantation not otherwise owned by the Plantation Golf and Country Club or Sarasota County (e.g., Rockley Blvd. and Wexford Blvd. are owned by Sarasota County). The Plantation Commons includes roads it owns, 62 lakes with 22 miles of shoreline, connecting waterways, 38 environmental areas, walkways, lighting, and open space within the Plantation. You have the right to travel on all streets and walkways, fish, or picnic in designated areas throughout the Plantation. You are also part owner of the St Andrews Park roadways, sidewalks, landscaping, entranceways, etc. Recreational facilities including the swimming pools and barbecues and the clubhouse are for the exclusive use and enjoyment by owners and approved tenants in St Andrews Park (SAP Declaration, para 5 and GIII Declaration, para 20).

3. Plantation Governance

To ensure our collective enjoyment of our property, security, and the preservation of the Commons we require effective governance. That in turn depends on well-informed residents who cooperate and participate in how we are governed in the Plantation.

Gardens III of St Andrews Park Association, Inc. Owner/Resident Handbook

3.1 Community Associations There are three organizational levels of responsible for managing and maintaining the property. When you bought your condominium, you automatically became a member of each. As shown in the table below, each of these associations has its own board of directors which have overlapping responsibilities and powers. To understand how the governance system works it might be helpful to think about the three association levels in the same way that we understand the functioning of the three levels of government in the United States: federal, state and city/town. Their spans of control are commensurate with the areas they govern but designed to correspond to each community they represent. To see how it works in practice, talk to your neighbors, and go to association meetings. Become informed about association decisions by reading governance documents, meeting minutes and other association documents available on their individual websites.

3.2 Association Websites It is recommended that you contact each association to sign up for their website. There you will have free access to the governing documents along with notices, agendas and minutes of meetings, other official documents that you need to consider as an owner, along with notices of social activities, newsletters, contact information for Board members and residents' lists.

5. The 4 R's: Responsibilities, Restrictions on Use, Rules, and Regulations

The purposes of the associations at all levels are to maintain the community, promote the health, safety and social welfare of the residents and give them a voice in their governance (PMA articles of Incorporation, Articles II-B and C; SAP Articles of Incorporation Article II A, B and C).

The governance documents of the three association levels specify rules, regulations and restrictions that govern our activities in The Plantation. Such rules must be fully compliant with the Florida Statutes Chapters 718 and 720. It is the responsibility of all residents to uphold the rules and regulations.

The following sections provide a summary of the rules, regulations, and restrictions of use with which owners and others who use their units should be familiar. Included are references to the text in the governing documents to which one should turn to settle differences of opinion or disputes.

5.1 Rules and Regulations for GIII

For Gardens III, "the Board of Directors may from time to time adopt such uniform administrative rules and regulations governing and restricting the use and maintenance of the condominium units and the Common elements and other property owned and operated by the Association as may be deemed necessary and appropriate to prevent unreasonable interference with the use thereof and assure the enjoyment thereof by the unit owners" (GIII Bylaw Section IX). These rules and regulations must recognize rights of unit owners "to use the common elements in conjunction with the owners of the other units.... The unit owners in the aggregate shall be entitled to equal and full use and enjoyment of all the common elements ... except as may be restricted by the reasonable and uniform regulations duly adopted by the ... Board of Directors." (GIII Declaration Paragraph 5).

GIII administrative rules and regulations may be reviewed, revised, and reissued from time to time by the Board (GIII Bylaws, Section IX). However, written notice of any meeting at which Amendments to rules regarding unit use will be considered shall be mailed or delivered to unit owners and posted conspicuously at least 14 days prior to the meeting (GIII Bylaws, Section III, para 7). Members (at least 10% of the voting rights) may also call a special meeting at any time by written request for any purpose including discussion of rules and regulations (GIII Bylaws, Section II, para 4).

Compliance with uniform rules and regulations as agreed to by the owners is for our mutual benefit. These rules are designed to maintain the properties and facilities to the highest standards and to facilitate enjoyment of that property by residents and their guests. As an owner you are responsible to ensure all persons using your unit follow these rules. Failing that, the Boards of GIII, SAP and PMA are empowered and obligated to enforce the rules and in the case of non-compliance to fine offending parties after due consideration and process (GIII Declaration, para 10B and 21; PMA Articles of Incorporation, Article II K; and SAP Articles of Incorporation, Article III E and I).
